

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF MICHIGAN
SOUTHERN DIVISION

CURTIS LEROY BROWN,

Plaintiff,

Case No. 1:07-cv-764

v.

Honorable Wendell A. Miles

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF
CORRECTIONS PAROLE BOARD,

Defendant.

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

This is a civil rights action brought by a state prisoner pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. The Court has granted Plaintiff leave to proceed in forma pauperis, and Plaintiff has paid the initial partial filing fee. Under the Prison Litigation Reform Act, PUB. L. NO. 104-134, 110 STAT. 1321 (1996), the Court is required to dismiss any prisoner action brought under federal law if the complaint is frivolous, malicious, fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, or seeks monetary relief from a defendant immune from such relief. 28 U.S.C. §§ 1915(e)(2), 1915A; 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(c). The Court must read Plaintiff's pro se complaint indulgently, see Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519, 520 (1972), and accept Plaintiff's allegations as true, unless they are clearly irrational or wholly incredible. Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25, 33 (1992). Applying these standards, I recommend that Plaintiff's complaint be dismissed for failure to state a claim.

Discussion

I. Factual allegations

Plaintiff is incarcerated in the Parnall Correctional Facility. Plaintiff pleaded guilty in the Ingham County Circuit Court to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of drugs or alcohol, third offense, for which he was sentenced on March 1, 2006 to imprisonment of twenty-two months to five years. His complaint concerns the denial of his parole by the Michigan Parole Board. The parole board issued a notice of action on June 12, 2007, denying Plaintiff's parole. The parole board provided the following reasons in support of their decision:

Crime and Criminal Behavior

The drug law violation:

Involved OUIL/OUID

The prisoner has a criminal history:

Includes drug/alcohol related crimes

Of established criminal behavior

Of violent misdemeanors

Involving similar behavior to current offense

Of past sexual crime(s)

Of traffic related misdemeanors

Correctional Adjustment

The behavior reflected in the misconducts:

Shows that prisoner has received misconduct(s) since coming to MDOC or since last PBI.

This is a disciplinary time case

Regarding the institutional adjustment, it is our belief the prisoner:

Minimizes behavior

(Parole Board Notice of Action, Ex. D, docket #1.) Plaintiff will be considered for parole again in October 2008.

Plaintiff claims that his due process rights were violated in the parole proceedings. He contends that the Parole Board improperly considered the unfounded "homosexual predator" label that was placed on him by the Michigan Department of Corrections. A prisoner is designated a homosexual predator if he is found to have used force, or the threat of force, to commit or to attempt to commit a non-consensual sexual act involving a victim of the same sex. See MICH. DEP'T. OF CORR., Policy Directive 05.01.150 (Sexual Predator Designations). Plaintiff further claims that the parole board improperly considered an aggravated stalking charge that was brought against him in Ingham County, but was dismissed without prejudice in 2006. He also contends that the parole board violated MICH. COMP. LAWS § 791.235(4) by failing to provide him proper notice that it was considering the dismissed stalking charge. For relief, Plaintiff seeks a new parole hearing during which the parole board may not consider the unfounded homosexual predator label or the dismissed stalking charge.

II. Failure to state a claim

A complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted when it is clear that no relief could be granted under any set of facts that could be proved consistent with the allegations of the complaint. Jones v. City of Carlisle, 3 F.3d 945, 947 (6th Cir. 1993). To state a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, a plaintiff must allege the violation of a right secured by the federal Constitution or laws and must show that the deprivation was committed by a person acting under color of state law. West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988); Street v. Corr. Corp. of Am., 102 F.3d 810, 814 (6th Cir. 1996). Because § 1983 is a method for vindicating federal rights, not a source of substantive rights itself, the first step in an action under § 1983 is to identify the specific constitutional right allegedly infringed. Albright v. Oliver, 510 U.S. 266, 271 (1994).

Plaintiff claims that he was denied parole in violation of his due process rights. To sustain such a claim, he first must establish that eligibility for parole is a recognized liberty interest, entitled to protection by the Due Process Clause. Meachum v. Fano, 427 U.S. 215, 224 (1976); see Bd. of Pardons v. Allen, 482 U.S. 369, 381 (1987). There is no constitutional or inherent right to be conditionally released before the expiration of a prison sentence. Greenholtz v. Inmates of Neb. Penal & Corr. Complex, 442 U.S. 1, 7 (1979). Although a state may establish a parole system, it has no duty to do so, and thus, the presence of a parole system by itself does not give rise to a constitutionally-protected liberty interest in parole release. Id.; Bd. of Pardons v. Allen, 482 U.S. 369, 373 (1987). Rather, a liberty interest is present only if state law entitles an inmate to release on parole. Inmates of Orient Corr. Inst. v. Ohio State Adult Parole Auth., 929 F.2d 233, 235 (6th Cir. 1991).

In Sweeton v. Brown, 27 F.3d 1162, 1164-65 (6th Cir. 1994) (en banc), the Sixth Circuit, noting “the broad powers of the Michigan authorities to deny parole,” has held that the Michigan system does not create a liberty interest in parole. Subsequent to its 1994 decision, the Sixth Circuit has recognized the continuing validity of Sweeton and has continued to find that Michigan’s parole scheme creates no liberty interest in being released on parole. See Ward v. Stegall, 93 F. App’x 805, 806 (6th Cir. 2004); Martin v. Ohio Adult Parole Auth., 83 F. App’x 114, 155 (6th Cir. 2003); Bullock v. McGinnis, 5 F. App’x 340, 342 (6th Cir. 2001); Turnboe v. Stegall, No. 00-1182, 2000 WL 1679478, at *1 (6th Cir. Nov. 1, 2000); Hawkins v. Abramajtys, No. 99-1995, 2000 WL 1434695, at *2 (6th Cir. Sept. 19, 2000); Irvin v. Mich. Parole Bd., No. 99-1817, 2000 WL 800029, at *2 (6th Cir. June 14, 2000); Clifton v. Gach, No. 98-2239, 1999 WL 1253069, at *1 (6th Cir. Dec. 17, 1999).

Also, in unpublished decisions, the Sixth Circuit has held that particular parts of Michigan’s statutory parole scheme do not create a liberty interest in parole. See Fifer v. Mich.

Dep't of Corr., No. 96-2322, 1997 WL 681518, at *1 (6th Cir. Oct. 30, 1997); Moran v. McGinnis, No. 95-1330, 1996 WL 304344, at *2 (6th Cir. June 5, 1996); Leaphart v. Gach, No. 95-1639, 1995 WL 734480, at *2 (6th Cir. Dec. 11, 1995); Vertin v. Gabry, No. 94-2267, 1995 WL 613692, at *1 (6th Cir. Oct. 18, 1995); Neff v. Johnson, No. 92-1818, 1993 WL 11880, at *1 (6th Cir. Jan. 21, 1993); Janiskee v. Mich. Dep't of Corr., No. 91-1103, 1991 WL 76181, at *1 (6th Cir. May 9, 1991); Haynes v. Hudson, No. 89-2006, 1990 WL 41025, at *1 (6th Cir. Apr. 10, 1990). Finally, the Michigan Supreme Court has recognized that there is no liberty interest in parole under the Michigan system. Glover v. Mich. Parole Bd., 596 N.W.2d 598, 603-04 (Mich. 1999). Because Plaintiff has no liberty interest in parole, he fails to state a claim for a violation of his procedural due process rights.

Plaintiff also fails to state a claim to the extent that he challenges his homosexual predator designation. A prisoner does not have a protected liberty interest in the procedures affecting his classification and security because the resulting restraint does not impose an “atypical and significant hardship on the inmate in relation to the ordinary incidents of prison life.” Sandin v. Conner, 515 U.S. 472, 486 (1995). Moreover, the Supreme Court has repeatedly held that a prisoner has no constitutional right to be incarcerated in a particular facility or to be held in a specific security classification. See Olim, 461 U.S. at 245; Moody v. Daggett, 429 U.S. 78, 88 n.9 (1976); Meachum v. Fano, 427 U.S. 215, 244 (1976). The Sixth Circuit has followed the Supreme Court’s rulings in previous cases where a prisoner has challenged his homosexual predator designation. See Washington v. Weist, No. 97-1289, 1998 WL 466555, at *2 (6th Cir. July 31, 1998); O’Quinn v. Brown, No. 92-2183, 1993 WL 80292, at *1 (6th Cir. Mar. 22, 1993). Plaintiff’s designation as a “homosexual predator” is nothing more than a security classification used by the prison. Therefore, he fails to state a due process claim arising from his homosexual predator designation.

Recommended Disposition

Having conducted the review now required by the Prison Litigation Reform Act, I recommend that Plaintiff's complaint be dismissed for failure to state a claim pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1915(e)(2) and 1915A(b), and 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(c). Should this report and recommendation be adopted, the dismissal of this action will count as a strike for purposes of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g).

I further recommend that the Court find no good-faith basis for appeal within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(3). See McGore v. Wrigglesworth, 114 F.3d 601, 611 (6th Cir. 1997).
